

Michael Runau Hired to Lead the Kansas Immunization Program

Michael Runau was announced Sept. 26 as the new Kansas Immunization Program Director for the Kansas Department of Health and Environment.

Runau comes to Kansas with several years' experience managing the Indiana Immunization Program, which has twice the budget of the Kansas program. He was the director of the Indiana program while that state's immunization registry was being developed and implemented. He had extensive experience shepherding that project from concept development to full-scale implementation across the state.

He has a Bachelor's Degree from Wabash College in Crawfordsville, Ind., and a Master's Degree in Hospital and Health Services Administration from Ivy Tech State College in Evansville, Ind.
